SENATOR-ELECT
READY TO STEP
OUT OF COUNCILMayor Dixon Asks City
Commissioners to Pick
His Successor

Senator-elect George C. Dixon returning home yesterday with Mrs. Dixon from a visit in Chicago, told the city commissioners at last evening's council session of his desire to resign from the office of mayor as soon as his successor can be named.

"I believe that the interest of the Dixon public will be best served by the members of this council deciding quickly upon my successor. There is nothing to be gained by my remaining in office until the last day, January 9, when I will take the oath of office as senator from this district. Upon the earliest date that the council is ready to act in this matter, I will present my resignation."

The mayor urged the council to give this subject immediate consideration, stating that he would abstain from attending any special sessions of the council called for this purpose or in any way attempting to dictate selection of his successor in office.

Plan Public Works

Commissioner John Loftus suggested to the council some program of public work be outlined for the purpose of furnishing employment to the unemployed during the winter months. Mayor Dixon favored outlining a program of projects to be submitted for approval.

An ordinance approving the loan and grant between the city and the government covering the resurfacing of First street was adopted by the council.

Gus Blomquist, 313 First street, was granted a permit to erect a sign.

THIRD TYPHOON
IN MONTH HITS
THE PHILIPPINESHeavy Property Loss and Possible Fatalities Certain

Manila, P. I., Nov. 14 (AP)—Another typhoon—the third to swirl across the center of the Philippines in less than a month—struck the eastern islands of the archipelago today causing heavy property damage and possible loss of life.

The tempest was headed tonight in the direction of Manila where some apprehension was felt because of the destruction caused by a death dealing storm Oct. 16.

Three provinces—Samar, Leyte and Sorsogon—were isolated. Before telegraphic communication ceased, messages reported the wind had reached a velocity of 30 miles an hour and was steadily increasing.

Heavy rains accompanying the storm damaged coconut, banana, hemp and other crops.

At Legaspi, fourth largest city of the islands, a steamer broke from its moorings, damaged three wharves and then was swept to sea. A brief dispatch said fears were felt for its safety.

Zephyr Bears Another
Scar: Hit by a Truck

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 14 (AP)—The Burlington's streamline stainless steel train, Zephyr, continued in service today after being struck by an encounter with a truck which plowed into its side at Greenwood, Neb., last night.

Paul Armstrong and William Smith of Riverton, Neb., occupants of the truck, escaped injury as the truck hit the Zephyr behind the engine section and was spun around. The Zephyr reached Lincoln 15 minutes later.

On a trial run in Canada, the streamline speedster crashed into a stalled truck from which the occupants were killed.

Legislature Rushes Desired Bills

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 14 (AP)—Senator Huey Long's "share-the-wealth" program was pushed through the legislative mill today while the "Kingfish" took time out to consider the Louisiana State University football situation which is daily becoming more involved. Labelling as "varmints" Knoxville, Tenn., critics who described his projected jaunt there with the LSU team as political ballyhoo, he decided to call off the trip.

The proposed journey to Jackson, Miss., with the team Saturday likewise was cancelled due to the Senator's need of rest.

A challenge for an international contest between LSU and the University of Mexico, D. F. was frowned on.

"Mexico has a nerve to ask us to play 'em," he said.

Long's legislation includes acts which will give him more power in the formerly hostile New Orleans. Supervision of police and fire departments through a civil service commission composed of his administration leaders, and a "debt moratorium" law for two years.

LAST RITES FOR
PHILIP MILLER
HERE ON FRIDAYFuneral of Well Known
Dixon Man at Grace
Church at 1 P. M.

The funeral of Philip Miller, well known Dixon man, whose death yesterday morning at Rochester, Minn., was announced in last evening's Telegraph, will be held at Grace Evangelical church, Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, with burial beside the body of his first wife at Four Mile Grove cemetery.

Philip Miller was born November 16, 1861, near Sublette, and grew up in the same community. He was the son of Catherine and Conrad Miller, who were early immigrants from Germany.

Was Widely Known

At maturity he entered upon the life of a salesman for farming implements and threshing machinery, later adding automobiles and eventually devoting his interests to farm nutrition products which held his attention to the close of life. As a young man he attended college at Naperville, Illinois, as a result of which he kept himself well informed and widely interested in general affairs. In Chicago, where he maintained an office for forty years, he was recognized as an authority in agriculture and a specialist in the ways and means for its advancement. He was pronounced among farmers the best known man in northern Illinois. Among his intimate acquaintances were numbered many men of national reputation.

In January, 1883, he was married to Henrietta Niebergall of Mendota township, to which were born two daughters, Lina of Bethany, Kentucky, and Cora E. Davis of Chicago. After four years of married life, this happy union was cut short by the premature passing of Mrs. Miller, scarcely more than a bride. In 1889, he was married to Emaline Sack of Chadwick, now the sorrowing widow, to which union were born four children, Lloyd of Dixon, Edith Beardsley of Seattle, Marian Locke of Springfield, and Irene Baer of Pittsburgh. His only brother and sister preceded him in death.

Mr. Miller lived with his family in Dixon during all the forty years of his business activity in Chicago, maintaining an ever-widening circle of respected and respecting friends. He never knew by experience what sickness was until investigations following recent complaints resulted in an operation at Rochester, Minnesota, revealing a well advanced cancer of the stomach. He was unable to survive the shock of the operation and quietly slipped away.

Dillinger Escape
Results in Action
for Heavy Damages

Chicago, Nov. 14 (AP)—John Dillinger's wooden gun escape from the Crown Point jail has resulted in a $100,000 damage suit.

Action demanding that amount was stated in Superior Court yesterday by Clyde P. Rothmel, owner of the garage from which Dillinger and his Negro companion, Herbert Youngblood, stole Sheriff Lillian Holley's car to make their get-away.

Rothmel named as defendants Liberty Magazine, the Cuneo Press, and Al Dunlap, official of the International Police Chief's Association.

An article in the magazine Oct. 27, Rothmel charged, gave the impression that he aided Dillinger in his escape.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 14 (AP)—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, war ace, took a cheerful view today of the failure of his first attempt to complete a round-trip flight between Newark and Miami, Fla., "between dawn and dusk."

Heavy head winds, snow and ice thwarted the speedy ship's record attempt from the start.

Identification of Dorothy
Distelhurst's Body Made
Positive by Dentists TodayChild Had Been Murdered by Crushing
Blow on Head

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 14 (AP)—A nude body found in a shallow grave on the outskirts of Nashville was identified today as that of Dorothy Ann Distelhurst, six-year-old girl kidnapped as she was enroute home from kindergarten on Sept. 19th.

The announcement of the identification was made by Attorney General J. Carlton Loser who said the child was murdered.

Herman Spitz, pathologist, and Dr. Leonard P. Pogue, dentist and orthodontist, examined the body and joined the attorney general in the announcement that the identification was positive.

"The child was murdered," Loser said. "Her skull at the left side was crushed by a hammer or other blunt instrument. A rag was found in her mouth, possibly used as a gag to prevent an outcry."

Father Notified

The girl's father, A. E. Distelhurst, who had been in New York in an attempt to contact the kidnapers and pay over the $5,000 demanded for the child's return, left New York this morning by plane after being notified of the discovery of the body.

"The identification was established definitely by the filling in the second upper right baby molar," Dr. Pogue said. He had filled Dorothy Ann's tooth shortly before she disappeared and said the filling in the tooth was his work.

The body was found on the Davidson county tuberculosis hospital grounds late yesterday, but the announcement of the identification was delayed until the physicians made the examination which convinced them the body was that of the girl.

The body was found yesterday by two negro attendants of the tuberculosis hospital while they were digging flower beds. Under scarcely two inches of earth, it had been buried in a remote corner of the hospital grounds where trees and bushes shielded the grave from sight.

Another Reduction in Milk Price Follows Farmers' Kick

Chicago, Nov. 14 (AP)—Frank C. Baker, Federal administrator for the Chicago milk market area, announced yesterday that dairy farmers will receive 190 a hundred or 408 cents a quart for milk delivered to Chicago distributors and sold in bottles or as cream in October. The farmers delivered nearly eight and one half million pounds more milk in October than in September, for a total of 135,689,138 pounds.

The Tri-Cities locality of the Pure Milk Association, made up of farmers living in Geneva, Batavia and St. Charles, Ill., yesterday forwarded to the A.A.A. in Washington a protest on the recent cut in the price of class A milk to producers from $2.25 to $2 a hundred pounds. The protest asserted the price of milk with the $2 top averages but $1.54 because of the low price paid for surplus.

Southern Illinois Evangelist Mourned by Many

Pinckneyville, Ill., Nov. 14 (AP)—Dimitarides and hundreds of members of the Pentecostal church mourned here today for Miss Isabelle Flowers, 26-year-old evangelist, who died at her home Sunday.

Her funeral was scheduled for 2 P. M. at the First Baptist church, which was being used to accommodate the expected crowd.

It was arranged that the services be broadcast from Station WEEB, Harrisburg, by remote control, as were Miss Flowers' farewell words to members of her faith last September. At that time, knowing she would not recover from tuberculosis, she arose from her bed and stood before the microphone for an 11-minute sermon.

Hasty Divorce Given

Reno, Nev., Nov. 14 (AP)—A hasty divorce trial today ended the marriage of pretty English-born Audrey James and Marshall Field, III, millionaire grandson of the late Chicago merchant prince.

A charge of extreme mental cruelty, details of which were not disclosed, won the decree for Mrs. Field at a private hearing before District Judge Thomas F. Moran.

Field did not contest the case.

Body of Stolen
Nashville Child
in Shallow Grave

The hopes of A. E. Distelhurst of Nashville, Tenn., (below) for the safe return of his daughter Dorothy Ann, aged 6, (above) who was kidnapped Sept. 19, were rudely shattered today when the body of a child, found in a shallow grave on a state institution grounds near Nashville, was positively identified as that of his missing child. At the time the body was found the father, now near collapse, was in New York, hoping to make contact with the little girl's kidnapers and effect her ransom by payment of $5,000.

The judgement amounting to $374 set aside by Judge Frank J. Sheehan in the circuit court in September in favor of Dr. W. T. Black who started action against Dr. W. F. Attorneys for both parties to the action were present and arranged for the settlement of the court judgement.

Dr. Black instituted the proceeding against Dr. Aydelotte and both plaintiff and defendant appeared before Judge Sheehan to argue their cases. The court decided in favor of Dr. Black in the full amount of the sum claimed which was $374. A motion for a new trial was filed by Dr. Aydelotte, which was denied by the court and judgement for the amount was entered.

PARK PROJECTS
HERE RECEIVE
OFFICIAL 'O. K.'Work Will Proceed in Three Units of Dixon Park System

The Dixon park district has received the approval of a large project of improvement to be made during the winter months in three of the parks. The project totals in excess of $15,000 to be expended for labor and materials and the work is to be carried on under the Illinois Emergency Relief program. The Reynolds athletic field in the west section of the city is to be materially improved under one section of the project. The east end of the property is to be graded and seeded. The west part of the field was graded and seeded during the late summer months. This will be the only activity at this site at this time.

At Borden park grading operations which were begun last winter will be completed and the property put in condition for early spring seeding.

Improvements in Lowell park will be completed this winter under the new project. Activity will be resumed in the park stone quarry where stone will be taken out and crushed to be used in the macadamizing of approximately one and one-half miles of roads within the park. The roads will be put in readiness for surfacing with asphalt as soon as the necessary funds are available.

Dixon unemployed will be supplied through the local relief headquarters in completing the projects in the three park sites.

ROOSEVELT NOW
THOUGHT TO BE
LEANING 'RIGHT'Some New Dealers Profess to See Peace
With Business

BULLETIN

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—A committee to coordinate all the lending activities of the government was appointed today by President Roosevelt.

The move was interpreted as a start of consolidation of federal agencies with a view to absorbing emergency units as the recovery campaign unfolds.

Secretary Morgenthau heads the committee.

Roosevelt said at his regular press conference that the future program for the emergency recovery units probably would not be definitely decided until about the first of the year.

He said it would probably be determined also whether any more funds would be asked for the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—A new air of optimism that a business revival would ease much of the government's recovery load surrounded certain New Dealers today as the Roosevelt administration made the first moves to scrap some emergency agencies.

As signs of the beginning of a march toward normal, many observers cited these developments:

1. Authoritative indications from the White House that no more money will be asked for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, which has closed its doors to new applications for loans. The HOLC, formed as a $3,000,000,000 agency to aid home owners in distress, said private business soon would be able to re-assume the agency's task.

2. A statement by Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC, that his agency intended to ask no more funds from Congress. The RFC was formed back in the Hoover administration to help private business and banking weather the storm.

No More Devaluation?

3. The action of the treasury in removing restrictions on the movement of foreign exchange. It seemed to some onlookers as a sign that no further devaluation of the dollar is intended; the immediate future. If it were, they argued, the government would not be making it easier for capital to flee from the dollar. Wall Street revived rumors that stabilization of the dollar with the pound was imminent, but the treasury was silent.

CHEST OF HUMAN BONES ON ALICE
WYNEKOOP'S LANDBelieved Those of Person Slain; Murderess
Cannot be Reached

Frankfort, Mich., Nov. 14 (AP)—A box of human bones, found in the dunes near the Crystal Lake cottage of Dr. Alice Wynkoop of Chicago, convicted last winter of the slaying of her daughter, in-law, today was the subject of an investigation by Beazie county officers.

The bones, believed to have been those of a person about 50 years old, were found stuffed into a wooden box in a gully near the shore of Lake Michigan Tuesday by Raymond Schneider and Harry Herion.

Coroner F. J. Larue of Elberta said that he believed the bones were those of a person who had been slain and that some chemical had been poured over the body to hasten decomposition. He planned to send the bones to the University of Michigan medical laboratories today for an examination to determine the sex and the time of death.

State police and county officers who investigated the discovery said they believed the box had been in the dunes for at least a year. Enclosing the box which contained the bones was a larger box bearing the label of the H. K. Mulford Company, a Chicago biological supply house which went out of business four years ago.

Dr. Wynkoop has not lived at her cottage for more than two years. In the summer of 1933 the place was occupied by a boys' camp.

CAN'T BE REACHED

Dwight, Ill., Nov. 14 (AP)—Dr. Alice Wynkoop, serving a 25-year term in the woman's reformatory, could not be reached today for questioning about the box containing a partial skeleton found near her summer home in Michigan.

Mrs. Nell Stewart, assistant superintendent of the reformatory, said it was against the rules to permit interviews with inmates, and that such permission would have to be obtained through the Department of Public Welfare.

Dr. Wynkoop was brought here last spring to begin a sentence imposed after her conviction on a charge of having murdered her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Rheta Wynkoop.

Negotiations for Labor Agreement in Steel at Deadlock

Washington, Nov. 14 (AP)—Secret negotiations toward a workable agreement destined to prolong Roosevelt's capital-labor truce in the huge steel industry were described today as in a state of complete deadlock today.

Authoritative sources disclosed that "conversations" began weeks ago between the national steel labor relations board and powerful units of the industry. The aim was an agreement intended to promote harmony between employers and steel workers.

The first proposal came, it was learned, from a major steel company. The board made a counter proposal, which was rejected. Since then no headway has been made. The nature of the proposals is kept a close secret.

Some observers believe the next move may come from the White House.

King Leopold Seeks

Brussels, Nov. 14 (AP)—King Leopold today interviewed four possible successors to Count Charles de Broqueville, who resigned yesterday as Premier of Belgium.

The most likely possibility was believed to be Col. George Theunis who served as Premier from 1922 to 1925. He talked with the King today.

Others whom the king interviewed were Senator Leon Dens, minister of defense from 1931 to 1932 and an Antwerp shipping magnate and

The American Bankers' Association that the government would halt its lending and spending as soon as private initiative took over the task.
The outlook of the bankers' convention, where the President made a speech, was widely interpreted as a peace pact between the administration and the bankers. Some observers see in the recent developments a trend toward the "right," a sign that the President is approaching closer to the business viewpoint in the struggle toward recovery.

Helpful Hints
For Housewives

Save Spinach Stock
The stock left from cooked spinach should be saved and used in vegetable soup. It contains valuable food properties.

Here's Measuring Aid
For expediency and everready help why not make out a list of measurements and fasten it up in the kitchen so that it will be before you when you need it? Here are some suggested items to put on such a list:

4 gills equal 1 pint.
2 pints equal 1 quart.
Four quarts equal 1 gallon.
8 quarts equal 1 peck.
Four pecks equal 1 bushel.
A gallon of water is equal to 8 1/2 pounds in weight.
2 cups of powdered sugar are equal to 1 pound.
2 cups of granulated sugar are equal to 1 pound.
4 cups of flour are equal to 1 quart or 1 pound.
2 cups of butter are equal to 1 pound.

Lemon Juice on Avocado
Lemon juice sprinkled over avocado pear salad just before it is served improves the flavor.

Scissors in The Kitchen
Use scissors, dipped in cold water, when cutting marshmallows, dates or figs for the pudding, cake or cookies you are about to make. Scissors are also useful in cutting string beans, and string beans should be cut diagonally if they are not to take too long to cook.

Unbroken Poached Eggs
To poach eggs so that they will not "break" break eggs one at a time into a shallow dish and slip easily into slowly boiling salted water. When all eggs are in pan, cover and turn off fire or place on back of stove. Let stand until white film forms over tops and then carefully, with aid of wide spatula or pancake turner, remove to serving platter.

Use Tomato Juice
Canned tomato juice can be used in place of water when making vegetable gelatin salad.

Phidian Meeting Of Great Interest; Food for Thought

Tuesday afternoon, the Phidian Art Club met at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Walters.

The afternoon was one of great interest. Mrs. H. C. Warner very delightfully gave her impressions and a realistic description of the much talked of opera "Four Saints in Three Acts" by Gertrude Stein.

An announcement was made that on Wednesday, December 5th at 3:30 P. M. Mrs. Harry White would review the book "Anthony Adverse." This project of the Women's Club literature department will be held at the high school, to which the public is cordially invited.

Mrs. H. U. Bardwell gave a resume of the last meeting of the Presidents' Club held at the Art Institute, Chicago.

The climax of the afternoon was the most interesting paper on "Drama of the Renaissance" by Mrs. E. E. Wingert. The development of drama, through this period was described up to and including the time of Shakespeare.

Tempting refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss A. Geisenheimer presiding at the tea table.

'Children's Rights' Theme of Address At M. E. Men's Club

It was Ladies' Night at the Methodist Men's Club dinner last evening. The president, Prof. B. J. Fraser, presided in his original way. Supt. of Schools of Polo, Benjamin Kietzman, sang a group of three songs. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Kietzman. The audience, which taxed the dining room of the church, thoroughly enjoyed seeing and hearing these good friends.

The pastor was called upon to present the speaker of the evening, Dr. John Holland, pastor of the air, of WLS. The two men were in divinity school together and have been close friends through the years. It was not to be expected that the pastor could allow the opportunity to pass without a story or two at the expense of the speaker.

Dr. Holland announced his subject as "The Rights of the Children." Rights for men and later, for women, came in for some fine discussion by way of introduction. The speaker was not sure that men and women know how these rights came to them, how much they cost and what they are worth. The speech itself, however, had to do with the children, and what a speech!

The radio preacher insisted that every child in our country, and in the world, for that matter, has five fundamental rights:

1. The right to be well bred. We accord that right, he said, to rabbits, pigs, chickens, calves and colts, why not to children? He was justly severe with parents who "damn" their children into the world as the result of the social sins of a selfish civilization. The speaker was not sure how it can be done with the case of children as it is well done with animals but he was sure that bad strains must be forbidden and good strains advanced in an intelligent civilization.

2. Dr. Holland thought also, that every child has the right to be well fed. Again, he thought, we should be as careful in the knowledge of the needs and the value of food with respect to children as we know their needs and understand the value of the food given them. His illustrations at the point of neglect of the child in the matter of food were very telling. In addition to ignorance and neglect with regard to feeding children, thousands of them even in our highly favored country, to say nothing of the millions of starving children of the world, have not enough nourishment for the right claims of their bodies. This fundamental right is to a great degree denied the children of the world.

3. To be well read, said the speaker, is the right of every child. By this term he included all that the best educational vision knows. He was sure that much of the educational effort expended on the child is misdirected. The bent of the child, his outstanding interest, and most promising traits must be better understood and conformed to, thought the preacher of the gospel of a better race through a better childhood.

4. Every youngster has, too, the right to be well led. Here the preacher power came out in the speaker. He made it very uncomfortable, it seemed for those parents who try to send their children to church and Sunday school, who try to tell their children what to do and what not to do. He did not think much of this. Rather, the parents must lead their children to everything good and away from everything bad. His tribute to Iowa farmer father was realistic and beautiful enough to move a heart of stone. Not having hearts of stone most of his listeners were in tears at this point. The leader-ship of his and her parents toward the best in our civilization is the right of all children.

5. Finally, said the radio pastor of all the people, "every child has the right to be well wed." This final discussion was not an anti-climax, but the very impressive completion of the cycle of human life on the earth. He pointed out the inconsistency of parents who slave for their children and make every sacrifice possible for their well being until they are eighteen, and then take no hand in the major matter of their courtships and marriage. The speaker would reform our marriage laws and bring them up uniformly to the standard of our Christian civilization, yes, where they appeared Monday night.

Other plays in their repertoire include "Tom Sawyer," which they offer for juvenile audiences; and "She Stoops to Conquer," which they give often for student audiences.

Robt. Caldwell in Rockford With the Jitney Players Tues.

A large audience filled the Rockford Theater Tuesday afternoon at the weekly meeting of the Rockford Woman's Club and loudly applauded as the curtain fell on the Jitney Players' production of "The Streets of New York." Dion Boucicault's famous comedy melodrama, Robert Caldwell, a Dixon boy, who has made a sustained success as an actor, doubled in several difficult parts. He and Nancy Wetherill made a great hit in their duet, "Over the Banister."

The morning paper further comments:

Robert Caldwell, who spent his boyhood in Dixon, played the exuberant and devastating juvenile lead, Mark Livingston, who was ready to end it all for lack of funds until the beautiful and wealthy Miss Bloodgood decided he'd make a good husband and alienate from him his own true love, the languishing heroine, Lucy Fairweather. Nancy Wetherill was a sweet, smirking Lucy in the best tradition, pure, gentle and noble.

Mr. Caldwell also doubled as Capt. Fairweather, who conveniently died at the close of Act I giving the villainous Bloodgood opportunity to steal his life's savings and dispose of the body, aided by the irrepressible and charming Badger, played by Pendleton Harrison (who re-appeared in Act V. Scene 2 as an officer of the law, looking twice as young, and much more jaunty than he had twenty years before!)

Members of the cast, in two automobiles and a truck bearing their scenery, set forth after yesterday's performance for Lawrence, Kas., where they will perform at the University of Kansas. They came here from Monmouth.

Knitted

A two-piece dress in bright red, rib knit woolen is just the thing to wear under a dark colored winter coat. The capelike collar, raglan sleeves that flare at the wrists and pencil-slim skirt are flattering to any figure. A dashing black felt hat, kid gloves, wide black leather belt and smart kid pumps are worn with it.

but he would do a more basic and vital thing, he would educate parents and give them to know the finer art of assisting their children at the point of marriage. Dr. Holland filled marriage, its meaning and possibilities with all its possible spiritual content.

BASEBALL SHOWS HOW HUMAN JAPANESE ARE

It is an odd thing that professional baseball players should succeed where statesmen and diplomats have failed.

While Babe Ruth and his all-star crew from the American and National Leagues tour Japan and enjoy a public acclaim, a national friendliness, which is as amazing as it is sincere, the statesmen are looking ahead nervously to the coming "disarmament" conference, wondering how much longer the fabric of world peace will be able to stand the strain which conflicting American and Japanese naval rivalries are putting upon it.

Now it would be perfectly silly, of course, to suppose that because of Japanese enthusiasm for our game of baseball the difficult problems surrounding the clash of opposing national policies are going to be swept away. International mixups aren't straightened out so easily.

And yet there is something about Japan's welcome to the American baseball team which makes a person stop and think a little.

Ordinarily we see the Japanese in the light of their Manchurian adventure, with the shadow of great naval ambitions falling across their shoulders. They become grotesque caricatures symbolizing ruthless and pugnacious greed. Given a little bad luck, we could easily put them in that gallery labeled "the enemy."

And then we read about this tour of the American baseball team; about 65,000 Japanese turning out to see a single game; about a great popularity contest to choose the 50 most beautiful waitresses in Tokio to wait on the American athletes at the dinner table; about enormous crowds clogging the streets to see and cheer the players—and, in familiar fashion to ask for autographs.

Reading those things, we suddenly discover: Why, these folks are like ourselves. They like the same things we like; if we got to know them, we could like them first rate, and they could like us.

And that, in turn, is apt to make us wonder whether there really needs to be that mutual suspicion and jealousy which—not to mince words about it—has shoved us a dangerous distance along the road to war. If a handful of professional athletes can give us a vision of international friendship, shouldn't there be some way of translating the vision into reality.

THERE'S NEED NOW FOR PARTY OF CONSTRUCTIVE OPPOSITION

A political party is the instrument through which citizens impose their will on their government. As a matter of practical politics, it has to operate through a horde of small officeholders and a small group of leaders, with a few financial supporters in the background.

Once in a while it happens that this party machinery will travel in one direction while the great mass of the people are traveling the other way. When that happens, the party can do one of just two things: it can change its direction, or it can pass out of existence.

It almost looks as if the Republican party today were facing such a situation.

To be sure, there have been landslide elections in this country before. From 1920 through 1928, the Democrats suffered a series of crushing reverses—to revive and return in triumph in 1932. But what has happened to the Grand Old Party is something else again.

The people have been through four very hard years. These years not only brought much suffering and hardship to many people; they made a great many people profoundly dissatisfied with the past and highly distrustful of the future.

The enemies, by now, are obvious. The people are no longer content to be wooed in the old phrases, nor do they fear proposals which are new and untold. They want somebody, somehow to do something that will make a repetition of the recent disaster impossible.

There we have the explanation of the current landslide. Most of the Republican leaders let themselves appear in the position of those who offer nothing but criticism. No policy was offered—except, by implication, the policy of returning to the old ways. Since the overwhelming mass of the people were going in the other direction, we got a landslide.

Now when a nation gets into a mood like ours, it may go on and do something great and fine—or it may run right into a deep ditch. It is precisely for that reason that a revival of the Republican party is so greatly needed.

There is a place for an intelligent and aggressive conservative party—a party to speak for those who feel that we may go too fast in our journey toward a new social order and who do not feel that the depression has made all of our old institutions worthless. The Republican party can perform that function; but only if it heeds the warning of the election, adjusts itself to the temper of the people and stops trying to swim directly against the current.

I was tremendously concerned in finding out what was myself inside of me. I think that's general of college students—Gertrude Stein.

The people are still on the side of Santa Claus.—Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York.

LEE COUNTY IS OMITTED FROM CORN-HOG LIST

Over $8,000,000 In Benefit Payments to Illinois

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Farm Administration has announced that of the $345,593,486 spent by the government in rental and benefit payments through September 30, $8,847,124 went directly into the pockets of the dirt farmers of Illinois.

Of this $8,847,124 was given corn-hog raisers, while $1,849,931 went to wheat producers. Only one tobacco county was noted, Boone, which received $267.

Illinois ranked eighteenth on the list of the states, with Texas leading with $61,618,606 in payments. Foremost of Illinois counties to receive benefits was Logan, receiving $318,077; Edgar second, $278,529; Christian third, $253,122; Peoria fourth, $246,877; Greene fifth, $239,851.

Although $34,479,890 has been spent through the Chicago office of the AAA for the removal of surplus, officials here said there was little chance of telling just how much went into Illinois itself. Much of this was expended toward removing surplus herds and crops, but it was sent to farmers throughout the middle-western states.

Soon all the Fatsies were dressed in, and Scouty yelled, "Now, fall in line and do a bit of marching. We all love a nice parade."

"We will sit and watch you pass by. To do your very best please try. Just show us, if you can, of what real soldier boys are made."

"Okay," one of the Fatsies said. "I'll take my place up at the head. Then to the others he exclaimed, 'Hey, tidy up your clothes.'

"The hat straps should be pulled up tight, and then the hats will fit all right. Right now, you are wearing clumsy-looking headgear, goodness knows!"

Wee Doty grew impatient and she jumped and said, "I'll lend a hand. My goodness, but you lads are slow. I'll fix you up just right."

Fair Goldy kindly helped a bit, and shortly said, "You are looking fit. In fact, as little soldiers you look brave enough to fight!"

"Then came the marching. My what fun! Some of the tots began to run. 'Oh, that is all wrong!'

Child Study Class

What is being accomplished in a practical way in Home Economics classes? What would an ideal program in Home Economics include? These were some of the questions discussed by Miss Beatrice Hunter for members of the Child Study class at a recent meeting held in the local school building.

"A course of foods as it is taught today considers not only the technique and skill of cooking," said Miss Hunter, "but it deals as well with every aspect of food preparation, food buying and marketing, menu-planning, budgeting, and all kitchen tasks in general. In the same manner, courses in clothing are no longer centered as in the past entirely around the technique of sewing. They stress in addition such things as the selection of individual and the occasion for wearing clothing. One of the most interesting phases from the standpoint of the girl is that the selection of clothing in relation to her own particular type. She gets much enjoyment from designing her own particular costumes, from the standpoint of her coloring features, hair, size and disposition, etc."

A comprehensive program in Home Economics is not limited to courses in Foods and Clothing; however, neither is it for girls alone. In many schools the classes are now open to boys as well as girls. An effort is made to help students develop the abilities necessary in the successful management of a home. A story is made of family life, the characteristics of a good home, and the part of a boy or girl in fitting into a happy home. How to be a guest, a host or hostess; how to make one's room attractive, how to help care for younger brothers and sisters and to entertain them, how to be wise in spending money—these are some of the subjects considered.

Two short plays were given by members of Miss Hunter's classes to demonstrate points that have been studied this fall and were much enjoyed by those present.

Sunday School Class Party

Friday night a peppy bunch of young Sunday school girls of the M. E. church enjoyed a very cleverly planned party, which was the result of a contest started about six weeks ago.

Every member dressed in hard time clothing and met at the home of Dorothy Durkes. There they were piled into a truck and taken to the Lloyd sheep tenant house which was decorated to suit the occasion. After a few interesting games in the house, an exciting scavenger hunt was started.

Games, such as bobbing for apples, were then carried on in the basement.

Fortunes were told by pop corn balls filled with a small article which signified a certain future.

Mrs. Jean Maraud, having earned the highest number of points during the evening, was awarded a lovely prize.

The party was topped off with a

Illinois Football Team Draws 169,000 People; Two Games Yet Remain

Represents Increase Of 3000 Over Mark at All Games in '33

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 4. —(AP)—Riding the crest of a winning wave the Illinois football team has played before 169,000 persons this season, with two games remaining on the schedule. This figure represents an increase of 3,000 over the gross attendance at all Illinois games last year when the number of spectators descended to the lowest total since the erection of Memorial Stadium.

Attendance figures at the two pre-conference games for both seasons are almost identical. But since the opening of the Big Ten season, each game represents an increased attendance over last year.

When the Illini and Army met in Cleveland last year only 28,495 persons gathered in the Municipal Stadium for the game, while this season's conflict drew approximately 47,000 persons to Memorial Stadium despite the fact that the game was played in a driving rain.

Shows Gain
Attendance at the Illinois homecoming showed a gain of 4,000 persons this year with Ohio State supplanting Wisconsin as the opposition. While last year's battle between the Illini and Michigan attracted only 20,405 persons, this season's engagement drew a 33,000 gate and might have been increased by another 5,000 if favorable weather conditions had prevailed.

The Northwestern game this year pulled approximately 31,000 persons through the turnstiles, representing an increase of 9,000 over last year when the game was also played at Dwyer Stadium. It is expected that more than 50,000 persons will be in the stands to watch Illinois in its next two games at Wisconsin and at Chicago.

Lasky-Schmeling Bout Is Planned

New York, Nov. 14. —(AP)—The matching of Art Lasky, Minneapolis heavyweight, and Max Schmeling, former title holder, is the next step on Madison Square Garden's heavyweight elimination program. Providing Lasky beats King Levinson at Chicago Nov. 23, he will be offered the match with Schmeling, promoter James J. Johnston said. The match will take place either here or at Miami.

Old Army Game
Jud Tunkins says it's the old Army game for a man to act proud and haughty when you ask him a question, the object being to conceal the fact that he doesn't know the answer.

The first "penny" golf course is claimed to have been built five years ago near Chattanooga, Tenn. The system which Carter patented presented hazards, etc., like a standard course. Miniature courses with less than nine holes, or courses with short holes, however, were built previously. Robert M. Green added ice cream to plain soda water, and demonstrated the palatable beverage at Philadelphia's 1874 Centennial celebration. A Buffalo doctor, on Feb. 1, 1893, had his car insured by a Hartford company.

PULPIT WILL BE DEDICATED AT SUNDAY SERVICE

Rev. Wm. Thompson
To Conduct
Services

The Brethren church will dedicate their new pulpit platform, which has recently been built into their church, next Sunday with appropriate services both morning and evening. The new improvement not only greatly improves the looks of the interior of the church but will offer much better facilities for giving missionary programs, musical services in which a number of people will have a part, and will furnish room for a choir.

The new platform extends twelve feet south of the old one along the west side of the church, and adds much dignity to the general appearance on the church auditorium. The church has been seated with pews facing the west and the change is much appreciated by the entire congregation since it offers greater comfort and better vision of the speaker than the former seating.

The new improvement will be dedicated Sunday with fitting services conducted by the pastor, Rev. William E. Thompson. All Sunday school classes are expected to have large attendance at Sunday school and the dedication service will take place at the eleven o'clock service.

A picnic dinner will be served at the noon hour. The young people of the church will give a program Sunday evening entitled "The Church at Work" which will consist of musical numbers, readings, short talks and pantomimes. An invitation is extended to the public to attend.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

GRACE EVANGELICAL

A fine audience of women greeted Mrs. Seager upon her first appearance yesterday afternoon at 2:30.

Using the theme, "Faith Conquers Fear," and basing her message upon that portion of Scripture found in the 4th Chapter of Mark's gospel, where Jesus stills the storm and rebuked the disciples for their fear, saying, "Why are ye so fearful? How is it that ye have no faith?" Mrs. Seager gave a most helpful and heartsearching message upon "Faith."

She said that it would seem that the disciples ought to have faith sufficient to overcome their fear after the privilege they had in so closely associating with their Lord and Master, but how about us? What privileges we have had! What experiences we have had in the past demonstrating God's power to care for us, etc., yet we are so prone to become fearful and fail to exercise sufficient faith to still our fears. Of course we all do have fears, perplexities, problems, severe ones, but how differently we meet them if our faith and confidence is in Christ as our Saviour and Friend.

Mrs. Seager spoke of the habit of cleansing our bodies each morning and of the attractiveness of a clean body, but asked us about our souls. Did we ever tarry to have our souls cleansed each morning? That we might go through the day with peace of soul? Mrs. Seager placed special emphasis upon the importance of at least a few minutes being spent with God before meeting anyone else for the day and its duties, assuring us that things will go smoother and easier in every way if we make sure at the beginning of the day that there is nothing between us and our God. Some days are so peaceful that we almost forget God but when the storms come we feel our need of and dependence upon God. Only Jesus can give stillness of heart. If we are fully trusting Him we shall have that peace and quietness of heart and life.

Mrs. Seager will continue these helpful but informal meetings on Thursday of this week and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Women—don't fail to avail yourself of this opportunity of hearing this gifted woman of God.

Bishop Seager preached to an appreciative audience at 7:30 after an inspiring song service led by the pastor, Rev. A. D. Shaffer. The Bishop used the text "Thus 2:12. The theme, 'How to Live.'" He said in part—"We should look at the way we are going. There is just one journey, one life, one end, and one judgement. There is appointed unto man once to die and after that the judgement. I do not find in the Word of God that any man will ever have a second chance. We must live soberly, righteously and Godly. These three things must be in a life. If it is to be a good Christian life. To live soberly we must have self-command over our temper, over our affections over our speech and over our purposes. That is the government of the higher over the lower. I owe many things to God, but I also owe many things to myself. I owe to myself the care of my body, culture of my mind, development of my moral nature, relationship to my fellowman, and the salvation of my soul. If I do not do it I am not doing my duty to God.

It is not unnatural to have evil thoughts. The coming of them does not mean that we have lost our religion. They came to our Lord. You are not to blame for the suggestion of the evil thought. When you are agreeable with an evil thought it becomes sinful. Remember you are responsible for habits of thought.

There are things every day we should not see. In our homes we have tried to be careful of the literature that was placed on our table. There are many magazines in the United States mail will not carry, yet many of our young people and

Dilapidated Barn That Hid Tell-Tale Ransom Bills

AGRICULTURE IN REVOLT WARNING OF GOV. OLSON

See Formation of Third Party by Farmers of the United States

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 14—(AP)—An agrarian political revolt, with a possible national third party, unless equality for agriculture is obtained was predicted today by Gov. Floyd B. Olson, Farmer-Labor chieftain recently re-elected to his third two-year term in Minnesota.

A supporter of Roosevelt, Olson said the possibility of a third party "depends on what Roosevelt does—he has control of everything now and the people expect him to deliver." Mentioned frequently as a possible third party candidate for president, Olson asserted that in the event of such a revolt, he would be in the fight, but not as a candidate.

"I will predict one thing," he said "either we get equality for agriculture or we get an agrarian political revolt in a couple of years. All third parties in the past have originated in agrarian centers and that's where it will come from, if it does."

Price fixing of farm commodities is an absolute necessity to insure equality for agriculture, Olson said, predicting that the next step would then be a consumers' cooperative movement.

The federal government should build consumers' cooperatives, he said, and indicated he may take up his plan with federal relief administrators in Washington next week. He will leave for Washington Saturday.

Use of relief monies for leasing of factories and sale of commodities manufactured by unemployed on the open market, with the funds so obtained turned to reemployment purposes, also was urged by Olson.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

BEGIN HERE TODAY
When CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for The Blade, is found dead, DAN BLECKER, publisher, employs SIDNEY GRIFF, famous criminologist, to solve the murder.

MORDEN had been investigating the affairs of FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent. Following the arrest of an impostor claiming to be Cathay and accompanied by a girl called MARY BRIGGS.

The day following MORDEN's death Cathay dies of poisoning. GRIFF leaves MORDEN had visited the apartment of ALICE LOR-TON, pretty and unemployed. He meets Alice with KENNETH ROOME, accuses the pair of killing MORDEN, and they are arrested.

MRS. BLANCKE MAIONE, for whom MRS. CATHAY and CARL RACINE, detective employed by her, have been working, is interrogated. She refuses to answer questions.

GRIFF and Blecker go to the hotel where Mary Briggs, now known as Stella Mockley, is staying. They find CHAS. FISHER, Ed. Cathay's lawyer, there. Fisher questions the girl.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXVI

THE girl did not look up as Fisher went on speaking. "I want the truth," he said. "I want the whole truth. I want it told without any attempt to spare yourself and I may say further that these gentlemen also want the truth. They too, are interested in the case and they will be witnesses to every word that you say. If you depart from the truth in the slightest degree I shall see that you are prosecuted and these gentlemen will see that you are prosecuted."

He turned to Blecker. "That is right, gentlemen?" he asked. Blecker nodded.

The lawyer turned back to the girl with theashing fury of a mounting cat returning to the attack upon a crippled mouse.

"Tell us," he said, "what happened?"

The girl's voice was weak and low-pitched but came steadily. The words were uttered with tense, nervous rapidity.

"I told the police the truth about one thing," she said. "It was a pick-up. I don't want to think that I'm the type of girl who falls for a pick-up. I don't ordinarily, but this was exceptional. I don't know how it happened."

"It happened there at the hotel. The man was registered as Mr. Cathay, Frank B. Cathay of River view. I didn't know at the time who he was, or even whether he was staying at the hotel. It started as an accident. I brushed against him in the elevator when the cage gave an unexpected start. I apologized, just one of those routine 'Pardon me's.' He said, 'Not at all,' and his fingers closed for a moment about my arm."

"I don't know what it was about the physical contact that thrilled me. It was something. Then his voice had something to do with it. He had a beautiful voice."

"I got off at my door and he got off at the same floor. I think he was trying to pick me up. I thought so at the time, but I'm free, white and 21, and after all, I didn't see any reason why I shouldn't pursue the acquaintance a little farther if I wanted to. But I wasn't easy, I didn't give him even a glance as I went into my room and closed and locked the door. He got the number of my room and, of course, found out who I was.

"THEN later on, in the lobby before dinner, I saw him again. He didn't seem at all fresh. Didn't seem inclined to take undue advantage of what had happened, but I could see that he was lonely. Apparently he didn't know what to do with himself."

"I let him catch my eye finally, and gave him just the faintest suggestion of a smile. He came over and we got to talking. He seemed a very fine fellow. The more I talked with him, the more I liked him. I was lonely myself. I'd been going with a steady and he'd stepped out on me. I was on the loose. This man suggested dinner late with him there at the hotel. Then he suggested a ride. He said he had a car parked near the hotel."

"He didn't seem to know much about the town. After a while we stopped at a place and had something to drink. He wanted to take a bottle with him but I was a little bit nervous about getting in an automobile with a new acquaintance and a bottle of whisky, so I talked him out of it. We talked about going to a dance and then he spoke of an appointment that he had—something that he'd come to town to do—so he went back to the hotel to keep his appointment. We were on the way back to the hotel when the officer stopped us because of some traffic violation."

The officer smelled booze on the man's breath and then the man started talking back to the officer and the next thing I knew the officer climbed on the runningboard and told us to drive him to police headquarters. He said we were going to be interrogated about some stick-ups of service stations."

"Right away I had visions of my picture being in the paper, and I whispered to this man. 'Remember I'm a hitch-hiker pick-up. You don't even know my name.'"

She paused for a moment and stared pathetically at the attorney, as though begging him with her eyes to believe her.

Fisher, however, remained stern-visaged, and uncompromising. "Tell it all," he said. "Every bit of it." "That's all," she said. "You know the rest."

FISHER shook his head impatiently. "This man had given you a name," he said, "when you met him?"

"Of course," she said. "What was that name?" "Frank B. Cathay."

"Did he tell you he was from Riverview?"

"Yes."

"Did you know he cashed a check?"

"Only a small check. I think it was a $50 check. He got some money before we went out."

Fisher turned to Griff, then looked at Blecker.

"Satisfied?" he asked.

"Satisfied?" he asked.

"Satisfied?" he asked.

"Satisfied?" he asked.

"Satisfied?" he asked.

"Satisfied?" he asked.

Griff shook his head slightly. "Neither am I," said Fisher.

Fisher whirled once more to the attack. "Immediately after that," he said, "you left the hotel. You came here. You registered under the name of Stella Mockley."

"Yes," she said. "Why did you do that?" "I didn't want to be traced," she said.

"It wasn't your name," Fisher said. "Your real name was the one that you were registered under at the hotel, Edith Nevers. The name, Mary Briggs, that you gave the police was merely an alias you thought up on the spur of the moment. The name Stella Mockley, that you assumed when you came to this hotel, was also an alias."

She nodded.

"And your new-found friend," he said, "was the one who paid the bill."

She lowered her eyes and regarded the tip of her shoe. "Isn't it a fact?" Fisher insisted. "Yes," she said in a low voice. "Ah," he said. "Now we're getting somewhere."

She said nothing, but there was a little shiver that rippled her shoulders.

Fisher sneered. "You would want to stop there," he said. "You would want us to believe that was all. Now go ahead and tell us all of it. Tell us the sordid part of it. Don't try to spare yourself, or if you do, so help me heaven, I'll have you in a cell before another hour has passed."

"You know the rest," she said in a whispering manner. "Go ahead," he said. "Tell it to me. I may surmise the rest or I may know it. That's neither here nor there. You tell me."

"He put me in this hotel," she said. "He told me that it had been just a prank, that he had a wife and that he couldn't afford to have me interviewed by the newspapers. Then after the newspapers came out I knew that he wasn't Cathay at all.

GIRLS DOING MOST OF WORK ON DIXON HIGH SCHOOL PUBLICATION: EDITOR-IN-CHIEF FIRST GIRL TO HOLD PLACE

Class Elections Held and Results Announced to Student Body

By ROBBIN

For the first time in school history, the Dixni has a girl editor. The "Chief's" name is Catherine Buchner, better known as "Booky" by the student body. She not only runs the school paper efficiently but exceeded editors of the past when it comes to operating the Dixni successfully from the beginning of the school year.

Out of the possible forty-five positions that are attainable on the school paper staff, thirty-one are occupied by girls and the remaining posts are filled by boys. What is the matter with the stronger sex of the Dixni high? Can they take it? It appears as though the girls are doing most of the work for the dear old Alma Mater, and are probably doing it better than most of the males could do. As it is the ladies of Dixni high, are the ones who have the pep and ability.

What the News Was Around Dixon in Years Gone By

50 YEARS AGO

Horace Street has been called to western New York because of the death of a brother.
The streets this morning were covered with short cigar stubs. Short cigar stubs are a sign of a hard winter. We believe this sign far more reliable than the bark of a dog, which is always relied upon by the oldest inhabitant. The muskrats have not yet sent in their returns.

25 YEARS AGO

The Dixon Bar Association held a memorial service for Judge Solomon H. Bethea in the Circuit Court room at the court house, Attorney A. C. Warner, presiding.

POETS' CORNER

LITTLE OLD SCHOOL IN THE COUNTRY

My mind wanders willingly over the land
To the dear, little old country school.

Where men of tomorrow and women so grand,
Are started with precept and rule.

No queen ever reigns on a throne more renowned,
Than the teacher who giveth her best.

In the little school house away from the town,
To the children, when Life is a jest.

So cozy, congenial and homelike throughout,
In each corner and nook of the room;

The shouts and the laughter within or without,
Always banish the deepest of gloom.

The desks may be ancient and carvings display,
Which are now highly-prized and so rare;

And don't you remember the hour of that day,
When you saw your own picture right there?

The ink has left splashes; the varnish is gone
From the seats with their sorrowful squeak;

In Memory's train they will all follow on,
As the days congregate for a week.

There Johnnie sits long, with his pencil and slate;
Over there sits his dear sister, Jane;

And yonder is Jennie, and Fannie and Kate,
Also Susie, and Lucy and Fane.

And Charlie, and Freddie and Walter and Frank;
There is Georgie, and Bertie, and James;

All learning to get to the head of the rank,
Where every good pupil has aims.

There's reading, and writing, and spelling to learn;
And the problem of finding the sum;

Subtracting, dividing, and square root in turn,
Makes a pupil stop chewing his gum.

Geography, too, has its place on the list,
And we prove the old world is round;

And grammar and language, are now never missed,
For it makes all our knowledge so sound.

It's here that a life really seems to begin,
Where the firmest foundations are laid;

Decorum and knowledge mingled within,
Are essentials to life if well made.

The little old school in the country exists
As the prominent source of success;

And through all the years there's a truth that persists,
Which the country school pupils confess.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE IS HIT BY SLUMP

Depression Has Caused Curtailment of 97 Plans

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Widespread curtailment of private unemployment insurance plans during the depression is noted by the labor department as the result of a recent survey.

Ninety-seven such plans have been tried but only 62 weathered the lean years after 1929, the department found and many of those still existing have been forced to cut their benefit payments sharply.

The department classified the plans under three types: joint agreements between employers and trade unions, trade union plans and company plans.

Of 26 joint agreements only five remain. All are in the clothing industry. Sixteen company plans are in operation out of a total of 23 that have been launched. Forty-one of the 48 trade union plans have been continued but "with the greatest difficulty."

Old Age Pension Increase
On the other hand old age pension plans set up by states have increased rapidly in the past few years. The adoption of pension laws by 'ten states last year brought the total to 28, not including two territories.

The state and territories which now have these laws, with the maximum pensions:
Alaska $35 a month for males and $45 a month for females; Arizona $30 a month; California $1 a day; Colorado $1 a day; Delaware $25 a month; Hawaii $13 a month; Idaho $25 a month; Indiana $180 a year; Iowa $25 a month; Kentucky $25 a day; Maine $1 a day; Maryland $1 a day; Massachusetts no limit; Michigan $30 a month; Minnesota $1 a day; Montana $25 a month; Nebraska $20 a month; Nevada $1 a day; New Hampshire $7.50 a week; New Jersey $1 a day; New York no limit; North Dakota $150 a year; Ohio $25 a month; Oregon $30 a month; Pennsylvania $30 a month; Utah $25 a month; Washington $1 a day; Wisconsin $1 a day, and Wyoming $30 a month.

Treasury Act Hints Return Of Confidence

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The treasury's action in dropping restrictions on the purchase of foreign exchange was interpreted as an expression of confidence in the monetary outlook.

Some observers believed it meant that the government felt more certain of the position of the dollar, or are sure that the public's confidence in the dollar was strong enough to make any heavy buying of foreign securities unlikely.

Some circles felt that the virtual de facto stabilization of the dollar in relation to the British pound might be strengthened.

The abandonment of the restrictions was announced by Secretary Morgenthau. Understudy Coolidge said it was a public statement of a policy that really had been in effect some time.

Americans, under the ruling, are free to exchange their dollars for foreign securities, currencies or goods without getting the Treasury's permission.

HOPES DROPPED FOR IMMEDIATE DISARMAMENT

Hull Discloses U. S. Seeks Separate Arms Treaty

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Secretary Hull has disclosed the United States had abandoned hope for any immediate general disarmament agreement.

He confirmed reports that this government was seeking a separate agreement on international control of traffic in arms without waiting for its inclusion in a general agreement.

The state department head made this known just before he conferred with President Roosevelt on a half dozen foreign affairs questions covering developments during the three weeks he has been at Pinehurst, N. C., recovering from illness.

The American government is hopeful that the other world powers will agree that the time has come to conclude a separate pact on control of arms traffic without waiting to include that subject in any general disarmament agreement.

Early this year the American delegation at Geneva was instructed to make concrete proposals on arms control.

Those proposals, Hull said, were approved by a special committee set up by the disarmament conference. At that time it was the intention to make them part of the general disarmament agreement.

Hull said, however, the American government now saw no reason to hold up arms traffic agreements.

It has designated Hugh Wilson, Minister to Switzerland, to sound out the European and Asiatic powers on whether they would go along in drafting an arms control agreement.

The secretary declined to specify any particular question he discussed with the president other than naval and disarmament affairs.

Archbishop May Return to Stand Trial in Mexico

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, exiled papal delegate to Mexico said he would return to that country to answer charges of inciting a rebellion if the Mexican government would assure him a fair trial.

The archbishop denied that a recent communication in which he protested the Mexican government's policies toward the clergy was meant to arouse the people against the government.

He reiterated that his protest, as others lodged by Catholic leaders, had warned the people that armed resistance against interference with their religious rights would not be proper.

Mexican officials have issued warrants for the archbishop's arrest should he cross the Mexican boundary line.

OFFICIAL HINTS DAIRY CONTROL WILL CONTINUE

Lauterbach Says That Drouth Need Not Interfere

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 14.—(AP)—A hint that the government had not abandoned the idea of production control for the dairy industry but stood ready to see that a favorable balance was maintained between production and consumption was given an audience of milk producers here Tuesday by a high farm administration official.

Addressing the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation A. H. Lauterbach, chief of the AAA dairy section, said production control seemed "temporarily in the background" because of the drought and government purchases of cattle, but asserted he believed "we need to take a broad view of the subject and be watchful and ready to advance our production with domestic demand."

Lauterbach predicted a firm butterfat market for the season immediately ahead, although feed would be scarce and high.

Although the dairyman has reduced the supply of milk, Lauterbach pointed out that he had not been left out in the government's distribution of cash, but had shared considerably in benefit payments for lines of farming in which he is engaged other than dairying.

Predicting that the government would continue to purchase dairy products for relief purposes however, Lauterbach stressed, however, that "surplus removal alone cannot be expected to improve the situation of the dairy farmer permanently."
